RELIEF FOR GOLD-SEEKERS. PLANS FOR SENDING FOOD DISCUSSED

BY THE CABINET. THE PRESIDENT WILL PROBABLY SEND A SPE-

CIAL MESSAGE TO CONGRESS ASKING AN APPROPRIATION TO PAY FOR TRANS-PORTING SUPPLIES-FURTHER RE-

PORTS OF SUFFERING IN THE

Washington, Nov. 80.-The Cabinet to-day considered the subject of sending relief to the people in the Klondike region. President McKinley received a telegram from the Portland (Ore.) Chamber of Commerce, saying that there was danger of destitution and suffering in the Klondike region and offering to supply the necessary food for relief if the Government would undertake the transportation. The information was not definite as to the actual conditions, but was on the same line as that which has been telegraphed from the Northwest. The Cabinet considered every phase of the situation and discussed ways and means of affording relief, the disposition being to do everything possible to prevent starvation and misery among the mericans in the gold district.

It was decided that nothing could be done until Congress met, when an appropriation would be asked for the purpose of transporting supplies. Although many plans have been discussed, none has been decided upon. It is probable, however, that whatever action is taken will be under the direction of the War Department, and by the time Congress acts Secretary Alger will have formulated No attempt will be made to go up the Yukon, as the ice has closed progress in that di-Supplies will have to be sent over the Just how they shall be transported is a question requiring earnest consideration, and it will require the study of many plans in order that an entirely feasible one may be evolved. Secretary Alger will gather all possible information and will communicate with persons who know the routes to the Klondike and are familiar with transportation methods in the Arctic and other frozen regions. Reindeer and dogs possibly may be used, and there is also a suggestion that the steam snow engine, which has been successfully used in the deep snow of the logging camps, may be utilized. Secretary Alger has confidence in it as a means of

GREAT INTEREST MANIFESTED.

The members of the Cabinet were all greatly interested in the matter of securing relief. Whether the men who are supposed to be suffering went there or not against the repeated warnings of officials, is beyond the question the simple fact being that they are there and need relief, making it imperative upon the Government to extend aid if possible. No estimate has been made as to the cost, and none can be prepared now. Congress will be asked to appropriate a sufficient amount,

The following correspondence was laid before the Cabinet:

Portland, Ore., Nov. 29, 1897.

The Hon. William McKiniey, President of the United States, Washington, D. C.
Overwhelming evidence testifying to the grave danger which confronts the American miners on the Yukon and its tributaries, with the dreaded horrors of starvation when the present small stocks of provisions shall be exhausted, demands of us as humane people, blessed with abundance, that everything in our power should be done to relieve the distress which is almost a certainty unless supplies of food can be transported to the imprisoned miners. With this object in view, the Fortland Chamber of Commerce has communicated with kindred organizations on the Pacific Coasa and has obtained in almost every instance assurances of hearty co-operation in furnishing the necessary supplies so soon as the Government shall promise to transport the same to their destination and supervise their distribution. Private resources are wholly inadequate for the task involved. Out of our abundant storehouses the people of the Northwest tributary to Portland are canable of furnishing food supplies in quantities sufficient to provide against the impending distress, but lack the means necessary to transport the same, and to provide for this we appeal to the Nation through its Chief Executive and its Representatives in Congress, to the end that an expedition under the management of officers of the Army or Navy be provided for and instructed to make all possible haste in the accomplishment of the mission intrusted to them. Assurances thus far received warrant us in guaranteeing to the Government that the people of the United States, and especially the portion tributary to Portland, will supply all the food products which the Government will undertake to transport to the beleaguered miners, and we earnestly pray that Your Excellency will heed our petition and Jend to it your valuable support. With assurances of our most loyal consideration, we have the honor of subscribing ours

THE PORTLAND CHAMBER OF COMMERCE, W. S. MASON, President. E. D. OLIPHANT, Secretary.

War Department, November 20, 1897.
The Hon. W. S. Mason, President Chamber of Commerce, Portland, Ore.
Sir: The President directs me to acknowledge the receipt of your telegram of the 20th inst., concerning the starving miners on the Yukon, and to say that he fully sympathizes with the expressions contained in your dispatch, and hopes that such means as shall be necessary to afford the relief contemplated will be furnished at the earliest possible day.

R. A. ALGER, Secretary of War.

Commissioner Smith's telegraphic report showed that no horses had gone beyond the American jurison at the lakes. The thousand head of sheep that started over the Dyea trail in July undoubtedly got through. There were three hundred sheep shipped from the lakes down the Yukon on rafts in September. Two hundred beef cattle all told started to the lakes over the Dyea and Skaguay trails. Of these Commissioner Smith reports 10 per cent lost or consumed, seventy of which are now butchred and frozen at the lakes awaiting transportation to Dawson. The telegram cautions the Depart-ment against placing too much faith in the reports from Dyea.

Other advices received to-day and placed before the Cabinet reported that a herd of reindeer, with supplies, had been started from a point on the Lower Yukon, about six hundred miles above St. Michael's, the herd reaching that place by cutting across land from a point opposite on the const. These reindeer are carrying supplies up, and a number of the people anxious to get down from the Klondike country will be brought back by this means. This herd will be used through the winter so far as possible.

him an authority on this phase of the Alaskan prob-lem. It is ordinarily difficult for a stranger to secure Lapps to leave this country for such a purpose, but in view of his influence among his people Secretary Bliss expects that Mr. Kjelman's mission will be successful.

Secretary Alger has written to the Citizens' Klondike Committee of Tacoma, Wash., regarding the order for a military reservation in Alaska. This committee desired to know how persons seeking business locations on the reservation should pro-ceed and expressed doubts as to the feasibility of the reservation. Secretary Alger refers the com-mittee to the regulations issued on November 11.

One of the purposes of the Government in declaring the reservation is to prevent monopoly, instead of fostering it: that the regulations apply to persons and corporations already on the ground as well as those who propose going there; that no one is to the permitted to occupy more land or water front than is essential to the proper conduct of a bona fide business, and that equitable measures are provided for the furthering of legitimate business enterprises and the discouragement of schemes for speculative holding of lands, etc., not actually needed or used, provision being made in the regulations referred to for settling disagreements between holders of permits after a careful hearing by the commanding officer of Fort St. Michael.

The power of permanently regulating the disposition and use of the public domain in Alaska is vested in Congress, and pending legislation the occupation of locations by troops in that country and the setting aside of military reservations as an incident to such occupation are solely in the interests of law and order and the safety and welfare of the native and incoming population. Very respectfully.

R. A. ALGER, Scoretary of War.

HOPE FOR THE DAWSON SUFFERERS. Tacoma, Wash., Nov. 30 .- E. E. Chamberlain, of this city, has returned from Lake Linderman, where he went to meet James McKay, who now owns and runs the largest land transportation business in the Yukon Basin. His teams now run all winter between Circle City. Dawson and the mouth of Pelley River. Chamberlain says if there is danger of famine he believes McKay has teams and facilities enough to haul supplies stored at Fort Yukon to Dawson as fast as they will be needed. The most alarming reports sent out about the prospective famine admit there is food enough on hand for four months, and that if 2,000 of those now at Dawson go to Fort Yukon, 350 miles away, all will have plenty. These reports are dated about October. Mr. McKay would, therefore, have three months in which to get up supplies from the fort before there would be any actual want.

A FORGED DRAFT TO PAY FOR DIAMONDS.

A MAN CALLING HIMSELF IRWIN W. HUMPHREYS OF BOSTON, ARRESTED IN J. W. BLOCK & BRO.'S STORE.

Irwin W. Humphreys, twenty-one years old, who says he lives in Boston, was arrested Monday afternoon in the office of the diamond dealers, J. Block & Brother, No. 5 Maiden Lane. He had a forged check for $500 which he had tendered to the firm in payment for some diamonds he had just purchased, the amount of the bill being $300. The draft was dated November 27, on the Manhattan Company, of No. 40 Wall-st., payable to the order of O. Duff, and signed by John F. Scott. It was indorsed payable to I. W. Humphreys by J. F. Scott. Mr. Block went to the office of Mr. Scott, at No. Mr. Scott said that he had never 60 Broadway. Mr. Scott said that he had never seen the draft before, and that his signature on the indorsement was a forgery. He and Mr. Block then went to the latter's office and confronted Humphreys. Mr. Scott recognized Humphreys as a man who had been his confidential clerk for eighteen months, but who had not been in his employ for months, but who had not been in his employ to two months. Humphreys was arrested by Detec-tives Nugent and Cain, who were in Wall-st. Humphreys had represented himself to the Blocks as an agent of the Humphreys Advertising Agency. of No. 72 Milk-st., Boston. In Centre Street Court Magistrate Meade held Humphreys in $1,500 ball for trial.

Boston, Nov. 30 .- Inquiry at the headquarters of the Humphreys Advertising Agency here disclosed fact that the person under arrest in New-York claiming to se Irwin W. Humphreys is not York claiming to be Irwin W. Humphreys is not connected with the Boston firm. There is an Irwin W. Humphreys, a brother of the manager, in the employ of the concern, but he is now in Boston. Harry B. Humphreys, manager, said: "We are at No. 45 Milk-st., not at No. 72 as the dispatch says, but No. 72 is the number of our rooms. It looks as if this fellow obtained possession of one of my brother's cards and was trading on it."

will be asked to appropriate a sufficient amount, and the War Department will expend it in the most economical manner, as in the case of the Mississippi flood sufferers, when £20,000 was appropriated and only £75,000 expended.

The task of setting supplies to the Klondike in midwinter is not underestimated, and doubts are entertained as to its possibility. Dyea can be reached by steamer. Thence the journey is one of seven hundred miles over the mountains, through deep drifts of soft, loose snow. The sun shines for only about five hours in each twenty-four, and the thermometer is often down to 50 and 60 degrees below zero. It is believed that an expedition cannot reach the Kiendike before February at the earliest, and the hope is expressed that there are five thousand people in the gold country. Secretary Algar believes the first and the first of the Yukon, but the Secretary expections, there. Nothing has been heard from him since he started for the Yukon, but the Secretary expections, there is nothing has been heard from him since he started for the Yukon, but the Secretary step close the first of the Yukon, but the Secretary step close advices from him aimost any day.

It is probable that the President will send a special message to Congress, asking an appropriation for the relief of the people in the Kindike, and it is believed that prompt action will be taken and the money made immediately available.

The fo pay the trial costs and to pay indemnity to his opponent's widow. The secret plans of the burialplace of his receipts, he wrote, were concealed in one of his trunks, and on August 23 these trunks were to be sold to pay the costs of his trial. It would take 10,200 francs to secure the trunks, and Berneau offered Mr. Phillips one quarter of the entire 3,000,000 francs which he had sequestrated if Phillips would come to Spain with the money. Berneau's letter was accompanied by official documents, newspaper extracts and apparently everything to substantiate his story. Legal advice was sought by Mr. Phillips and it led to investigation in Paris and cisewhere. Berneau's offer proves how to be one of a seites of a hundred or more such swindles attempted by a gang of European "crooks" on prominent residents of nearly all the larger cities of the United States. place of his receipts, he wrote, were concealed in

A CATALOGUE OF THOSE WHO MATRICULATED

BUT WERE NOT GRADUATED. An interesting catalogue of fifty-five pages has just been issued by Professor John H. Van Am-ringe and John B. Pine, acting as a Committee on General Catalogue for Columbia University. It contains the names of all the persons who have matriculated but have not been graduated, from 1758, when Columbia was known as King's College, to the present year, with information as to their careers, addresses, etc. Much data has been collected, but the work is far from complete, and the catalogue is now published with 'he object of enlisting alumni and friends of Columbia in obtaining additional information. The particulars with regard to matriculants which the committee specially desires to know are: If living, the present or last known address; if dead, the ent or last known address; if dead, the date of decease and age at such date; and the official or other places of importance and occupation of the matriculant, with a record of any military service which he may have rendered in the United States or elsewhere.

Since 1850 only 254 matriculants have failed to be graduated. Here and there through the book are to be found names of men who subsequently became famous. For instance, the second name in the list is that of Henry Cruger, who matriculated in 1753. He left King's the following year. In 171 he was elected to Parliament, and three years later became Mayor of Bristol. He then returned to America, and was elected to the New-York Senate in 1757. He lived to be eighty-eight years old. The editors have been diligent, and have devoted much time and labor to the work. They hope in later editions to be able to fill many of the blanks.

HEALTH BOARD ASKS FOR $60,000 TO CARE FOR PATIENTS.

THE BOARD OF ESTIMATE SAID TO FAVOR THE PROJECT-THE FIRE BOARD TO SUBMIT A NEW ESTIMATE PROVIDING FOR MORE MEN.

The consideration of the budget for 1308 was resumed by the Board of Estimate and Apportion-ment in the Mayor's office yesterday. The provisional estimate made for the Fire De-partment in October was $2,386,026. Fire Commissioners Sheffield and Sturgis, Fire Chief Bonner and Colonel Jusen, secretary of the Fire Board, present yesterday, and President Sheffield asked for an increased appropriation for the office rolls of the Fire Department, in order that civilian employes might be engaged, and that firemen de-tailed from active fire duty to office work might be sent back to the fire houses, as the work done by these detailed men spoiled them for fire work, and the city really had to pay exorbitant wages for the work they did. The Fire Board, he said, had messengers drawing salaries of $1,400 a year on the regular fire payrolls, because they were firemen detailed to this duty. Some firemen, drawing regular firemen's salaries, did work as painters and smiths. Civilian employes should be provided for these employments at reasonable wages, and the firemen should be returned to duty.

MORE FIREMEN NEEDED.

President Sheifield said that 150 men were needed for the uniformed force to man six new firehouses and the new fireboats. In addition to this, the Board asked for an increase in the number of men in companies below Fifty-ninth-st., the increase in the height of buildings in the lower part of the city having changed the character of fire work, so that where five to six men were sufficient to carry a hose to the top stories of a building a few years ago, seven and eight men are needed now. The 1.146 men on duty to-day are not enough. Mr. Shef-field asked also for provision for the sending of the forty-five men detailed in theatres. These men, he said, were required to be away from their houses at the very time they were most needed.

HOSPITAL TREATMENT FOR TUBERCULOSIS. President Wilson and Dr. Heman M. Biggs, of the Health Board, appeared when the estimates of the Health Department were taken up. A new item was for hospital treatment for the tuberculosis patients. It was decided that a special resolution of the Board cided that a special resolution of the Board would be needed to insert this new item, but the matter brought on an interesting discussion of the Health Board's crossade against tubercular con-

EFFECT OF THE HEALTH BOARD'S WORK. Mr. Wilson said that, owing to the action of the Health Board, the reports of cases of tuberculosis had increased from 278 from individual physicians and 1,000 from hospitals in 1866 to 1,748 from physicians and 1,008 from hospitals up to December

Paris, Nov. 30.-In the Senate to-day, after a heated discussion over the removal of a magistrate, which was denounced as filegal, the Senators, by a vote of 133 against 113, rejected the motion of M. Darlan, Minister of Justice, to shelve the subject, and adopted a resolution calling upon the Government to enforce the laws strictly.

This result was a Government defeat, and was greeted with loud cheers by the Radicals. When the news reached the lobbles of the Chamber of Deputies, the Radical members there declared that they would demand the resignation of the

IMPROVED SUBURBAN TRANSIT.

THE MANHATTAN COMPANY PLANNING TO INCREASE ITS FACILITIES BEYOND THE HARLEM

The Manhattan Elevated Railway Company has plans under way for important changes in its ter-minal facilities at Third-ave, and One-hundred-andtwenty-ninth-st. which will not only do away with the station that covers the avenue at that point, Harlem River to Third-ave and One-hundred-andseventy-seventh-st., the end of what is now known as the Suburban Elevated Railway. It is thought by the general manager, W. J. Fransioli, that it will be possible to begin work on these changes within the next four months.

The company has acquired title to nearly all of the block bounded by Second and Third aves, and One-hundred-and-twenty-eighth and One-hundredand-twenty-ninth sts., and the only thing that now stands in the way of the improvement is the necessity of bringing condemnation proceedings to se-cure about fifty feet of property in Third-ave. from One-hundred-and-twenty-eighth-st. north. As soon as this is done, it is proposed to increase the tracks and stations covering One-hundred-and-twentyninth-st, and now used by the Suburban Elevated Railway, and to have all the terminal facilities, such as stations, in the upper half of the block, and the yard, trucks, etc., in the middle and lower half of the block. This new station will have four platforms, approached from either side by the Second and Third-ave, tracks. All South Ferry, Chatham Square and Ninth-st, trains on these lines will turn in at the centre of the platform and return from that point, while all City Hall trains will stop at the upper platform and then continue on to Tremont. The extreme upper platform will be used for the suburban service of the New-York, New-Haven and Hartford Raliroad, and the extreme lower platform for Second-ave. trains. through trains to Tremont will be run under a

The four platforms will be connected by an overhead bridge, and the Second and Third-ave, tracks will also be connected so as to form a loop from one line to the other, to be used for the present, only as occasion requires. Mr. Fransioli intimated, however, that in time the trains may be run around the loop connecting the avenues, and thus avoid the changing of engines, or, in other words, trains going up Third-ave, would run down Second-ave, and vice versa, discharging passengers at the new station in the middle of the block. Part of the structures now covering One-hundred-and-twenty-mnth-st, and also at Third-ave, will be removed, so as to give a clear opening for the east approach to the new Third-ave, bridge, which is planned to come out on a curved line through private property about the middle of the block between the avenues on the north side of One-hundred-and-twenty-ninh-st, and open into Third-ave.

A number of representative North Side citizens, The four platforms will be connected by an over-

One-hundred-and-twenty-ninta-st. and open in Third-ave.

A number of representative North Side citizens, members of the Board of Trade, visited George J. Gould a few days ago, and he assured them that these improvements would be made as soon as possible. He also said that the company stood ready to extend its lines north of the One-hundred-and-seventy-seventh-sit terminus, and in other directions through the Borough of the Bronx, just as soon as the necessary consents of property-owners along the lines of the proposed extensions could be secured. In this he asked the Hoard of Trade to help him. Mr Gould said further that the cars on both the Second and Third-ave, lines would, within a few months, be equipped with the Pintsch gas-lighting system. gas-lighting system.
